July 2020 Chronology 66

Dear distinguish IRAMONIT readers,

We are here with the first issue of the Monthly Iran Report prepared by Center for Iranian Studies in Ankara (IRAM). By using a closed subscription system, the report targets only for a limited number of elite readers who want to have in-depth and reliable information about Iran and the region. In each issue, the most important events and developments related to Iran in the respective month will be compiled, and IRAM experts from different disciplines will review and assess them within scientific and objective domains. We hope that our work, based on a five-year intellectual knowledge and institutional know-how, will fill an important gap and meet the demands of individuals and organizations that need qualified, in-depth knowledge and analysis about Iran.

July 2020 issue is planned as an exploratory enterprise showing our prospective readers the scope, quality, and scientific rigor about IRAM's works. In the first part of the report, several distinct analyses are presented, each with a specific focus on events, news, or developments in Iran in July 2020. In the final part of the issue, the most important events in Iran during June-July 2020 were compiled and chronologically presented. Because the piece at hand is the exploratory issue, we have also included some of the events that have occurred in the past few months since the direct or indirect effects of these events are still deeply felt.

In each report, about 8-10 crucial news and events will be analyzed. The analysis is enriched by using various visual materials, including infographics, tables, graphs, maps, and open-source intelligent mapping. Additionally, because the Monthly Iran Report works through a strict subscription system, IRAMONIT entails those readers and institutions with a certain number of subscription rights to order a 'tailor-designed' researches. In particular, the institution or individual reader with this privilege will have the right to order a particular research subject so that IRAMONIT not only supply with analysis on important events by the report but also meets the individual needs of our valued subscribers. Given the different focus of our subscribers, the 'tailor-designed' analysis for the individual privileged subscriber in each month is an important indicator of the uniqueness of IRAMONIT as well as our self-confidence in IRAM.

Finally, in our exploratory issue, a Special File titling '25 Year Strategic Cooperation Between Iran and China' is delivered. In this file, we have examined a comprehensive picture of the history of bilateral relations between Iran and China and the strategic partnership agreement that was come to the fore in July 2020. In each month, our readers will find a special file with extensive coverage in an important issue.

We hope that IRAMONIT will be beneficial for your institution and company. See you next month.

Dr. HAKKI UYGUR
Acting President
